AMONG FRIENDS AT YALE. About Twenty Boys Whom He Coached at Exeter Will Be on Football Squads.

When Tad Jones comes here to assume active charge of the football squad at Yale, he will find himself among many old friends. There will be next fall, on the varsity and freshman squads here about 20 boys Jones has already coached at Exeter. Some of these players already have shown themselves to be of varsity timber for the Yale outfit, and there are others coming along who will make reputation on the college gridiron if they are able to keep up the work they are able to keep up the work they showed while at their preparatory school at Exeter. In 1912 Jones succeeded Zeigler of Pennsylvania as football coach at Ex-eter, having been one of the assistants the season before. His first year out as head coach was accompanied with remarkable success, and the academy team of that year is rated as being one of the very best ever turned out at the school. The team that year not only beat Andover overwhelmingly, but also had a clean slate against the long list of freshmen teams it played. Of Jones' 1913 team no less than eight men are now at Yale. Kempton, the quarterback, is still at the school. Casey and Enwright are at Harvard. Clinton Black, Yale's captain next fall played with the team at Exeter, and the other boys on the eleven, who will be out on Yale Field in September include Charley Comerford, an end who was captain of the freshmen here last was captain of the freshmen here last season; Wilber Kilpatrick, an end; McGrath, guard; Reggie Hutchinson and J. P. Kelly, two center men; "Husker" Bolton, a tacke, and Bob Bingham, a halfback, who played in the Yale varsity backfield last year.

Frank Waite, who for a time last season did some excellent kicking for the Yale team, is another old Exeter player here.

Then there is Zenner, a guard, who played on the freshmen last fall and at Exeter two years ago. Kirkpatrick, mentioned on the 1913 team at Exeter. also was a freshman at Yale last fall and will be eligible for the varsity this coming season. This also is true of Comerford.

There is also a first class back in the incoming list, La Roche, a Dor-chester boy, who, although at Yale last year did not play any football. Last fall Exeter had another fine wrestling team defeated the University football team as the result of Tad of Pennsylvania, 19 to 13 here tonight. Jones' coaching, and the chances are that some of the best men on that eleven will be found in the entering class at Yale next fall. One of the best players is Arthur Braman of Torrington, home of the late Jim Hogan of Exeter and Yale. Another is William Davis of Hartford, whose natural college will be Yale. BELL-ANS last fall and one of the best schoolboy quarterbacks ever developed, may go to Yale or Harvard. A fourth player who very likely will go to Yale from Exeter another year is Spencer Martin, who had played end at the academy for two seasons.

With all these men whom he has coached since he took charge of football at Exeter, Tad Jones will not be very much handicapped by not knowing a lot of his material. He will have on hand a large number of men who have great faith in his ability as a coach and in his methods.
